RANKIN HUNG HIS HEAD

Shortly after the Editor wrote up the Henderson hack horses W. B. Rankins was forced to pass through town on one of the hardest looking horses we ever saw, and wisely coming through very late, caught the editor at home on the front porch reading his bible. This was a surprise to Rankin and as he did not want to be discovered, hung his head as he passed. But remembering that you must watch as well as pray we discovered it was Bro. Rankin and more, that his old critter died soon after he reached his home. Rankin said he never wanted Elliott or Banks to know he ever rode a cheap horse. But you know "Murder will out."

Poor House to Let.

On the Fourth Monday in October the Poor House will be let to the lowest and best bidder.

ODDS AND ENDS--A ROBERTSONIAN REVIEW OF INTEREST.

What Col. D. C. Roberts Has Proven to the Fluor Spar World is Well Known in all This Rich Mineral District, Other Breezy Notes From our Wide-a-Wake Reporter.

There is a broker in New York City who owns and operates the Fair View mines just across the river from Carrsville, Kentucky. His name is Mulholland. His affairs at the mines were not going as smoothly as he thought they should and like King Bruce of Scotland he "Sat himself down in a lonely mood to think." The result of those thoughts was that he needed the best man he could find who possessed high grade selling ability and an expert knowledge of spar to travel and sell the product of his mines.

Col. D. C. Roberts was selected as the man. This occurred several years ago and ever since D. C. has made good and held the job. His territory is unlimited. His traveling expenses are something fierce—nevertheless it pays to keep a man on the road.

Col Roberts has an eye and ear for the ridiculous as well as the sober things of life. In his various journeys it would be remarkable if he did not see and hear both. A man's business usually leaves the mark of his calling, not only on his face, but in his general make up. It is so with a salesman or drummer, the marks of trade are with him. Of course fluor spar is a mineral little known outside the trade; yet the man selling it has all of the drummers marks. Perhaps he may not be as suave or as energetic as Bill Clifton; or as chesterfieldian as H. F. Ham-mack; or as oily as Dan Stone; nevertheless from the general appearance of Col. Roberts he would be sized up as a traveling salesman. All traveling salesmen are very inquisitive and want to know who you are and what you sell. They display as much ingenuity in finding out what they want to know as Jim Henry does in finding out the strangers name who wants to buy a fluor spar mine.

Sitting in a parlor car one day with a grip at his side and a book in his hand Col. Roberts was poked in the back by a Knight of the road with "What line do you carry?" The reply was "fluor spar" and then the reading was resumed. Quietness prevailed for a few moments and then another query "what was that you said?" The Col. replied again "fluor spar." Pretty soon the voice said "Oh! you go to the devil." The Col. did not go.

Col. Roberts sat in the smoking compartment of a Pullman car one day late in September among a crowd of traveling Knights who discuss their business successes. Some made five or six sales per day while others would only make a sale every five or six days. Finally the Col. spoke up with "Well Gentlemen I made a sale last winter, but have not made one yet this year. I hope to pull one over the plate by the first of October." With that he arose and started for his seat in the car. At the door he was halted with "Say Mister, what do you sell anyway?" "Suspension bridges" replied the Col. as he disappeared from view.

One night Col. Roberts sat in the rotunda of the Sinton Hotel in Cincinnati. A young talkative, traveling man insisted on talking shop until patience ceased to be. Finally the young fellow said "How much would you guess I sold last month?" The Col. replied, "Oh about half" "About half!" What do you mean by half?" "About half of what you will say" said the Col., as he started for the cigar stand.

The history of this Kentucky Illinois Fluor Spar district will never be written with the name of D. C. Roberts left out. Mr Roberts came to this district early in its development and with voice and pen assisted in the work of fluor spar mining and finding out what it was after it was mined and what it was good for before it was sold. He knew little about spar when he first came to this county. Now there is not a man in the United States who knows more about spar in all its various phases, mined or unmined. This district gives him credit more than any other for the work of educating fluor spar users. There is no fluor spar situation of which Col. Roberts is not master. Is it any wonder then that the Fair View mines pays him a splendid salary to sell fluor spar? Col. Roberts territory is the U. S. He is all over and every once in a while down here in the middle of Kentucky playing with his grand children.

000000

In the old days Col. Roberts did a great deal with his pen. His writings were nothing if not original. He wrote heavy editorials, Bits of By Play, a learned treatise on metallurgy and advertisements. His unique advertisement writing attracted the attention of a Crittenden county man who had lost a horse. He walked into the Colonels office one day and after giving a description of his lost animal asked the Colonel to write an advertisement for the "Press"

Mr. Robert turned to his desk for a few minutes and here is what he wrote:

REWARD—A reward of $5.00 will be paid by John Plaster Paris for the return of a lost horse described as follows:

One gray horse.
Bought of Tom Wring, 8 Years old
9 In the spring.
1 Eye out,
1 Eye red,
3 White feet
A Star in his head,
His head bulged out,
His sides caved in,
But he's a darn good horse, For the fix he's in.

Mr. Murray Sanders has gone to New Jersey and upon his return will be accompanied by Mrs. Saunders. We understand his zinc proposition at the Miller place is showing up better than ever. They have cleaned out the old shaft and at 80 foot level have struck some of the best ore yet found in large quantity.

0000000

This Miller mine and the Corn mine of Ross Givens join and just across the fence from the Miller working Mr. Givens has found some of the same ore. Mr. Givens has a force that are continually prospecting on this property. It has been producing 20 tons per day and gave employment to 15 wagons hauling it to Marion. The Corn mines produce a good grade of gravel spar. Mr. Givens greatest drawback has been the lack of water and he proposes to prepare for this emergency in the future by some means of water storage. With plenty of water this property will produce 40 tons per day.

0000000

Mr. Lucian LaRue is the manager for the Ben Belt mines and is very enthusiastic about it. He says it is looking better than ever and predicts a large production.

0000000

The Babb property is owned by Mr. D. Garth Hearne. Some of the biggest Steel interests of this country have been endeavoring to lease this property from him. Mr. Hearne has refused to consider any proposition. This is the property that was worked by the Eagle Fluor Spar Co., and from which thousands of tons of the very finest grinding spar was mined.

0000000

The whistle blows every day at the Susie Beeler mines operated by the Kentucky and Indiana Fluor Spar Co., Dr. R. L. Moore President and W. H. Copher, Manager.

0000000

This Babb vein has been opened on Guills place, the Raymond Babb place, Tom Babb place, Tom Barnes place and the Beard place.

00000

At the Butler place Messrs Russell and Ratcliffe are driving a tunnel back in the hill. There are three openings on this place and they are working a good vein of spar.

Mr. Lowery the Pope Mining Co., manager has sunk a shaft 70 feet on the Alvis place and has struck a new vein of Fluor spar and lead.

Mr. D. C. Loveless, farmer and miner reports a big strike of ore on his property on the Salem and Sulphur road. He reports that last week he struck spar and zinc in thirteen different places on this property. Furthermore it is nine feet wide in several places. He has prospected this vein for a mile and it shows good ore. Mr. Loveless is on a deal with some eastern capitalists to take over one half of this property.

0000000

Mr. James S. Persons has returned from an extended trip. He reports that he has interested the proper men with money who will come down next week and look over his Carrsville Zinc property with a view to developing the same. These people have plenty of money and will push this property into a paying proposition at once if it shows up well.

ATTEMPTED MURDER NEAR LOLA

Finus Madrey Shot Down at his Home From Ambush on Last Friday Night.

As Finus Madrey in company with his brother, were returning from church on last Friday night was shot down by some unknown party at his home about a mile from Lola, in Livingston County. F.S. Damron has been arrested charged with the crime and placed under one thousand dollar bond which bond he gave. Damron is a young farmer, owning his own farm. So far we can get no news as to the supposed cause and as to the charge against Damron being sustained we can give no idea. Everybody seems to be careful how they express themselves and under such circumstances there is little for a newspaper man to do but give the fact that a farmer has been shot from ambush by another farmer who is arrested and placed under bond accused of it. Madrey is badly shot about the face and body, but will get well from reports received today.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Slim Outlook For Democratic Rule in Senate. Other Notes on Water Ways.

Washington Sept.—While the signs of the times portend losses to the Republicans and while the Democrats are "cock sure" that they will control the next House of Representatives it will take the Democrats a long time even with the tide running in their favor, to gain the Senate. They are already assured of a gain in Maine, having won the legislature, which elects a successor to Senator Hale, but they are due to lose a Senator in William E. Purcell of North Dakota, who was appointed by George Burke to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. Fountain L. Thomas. The North Dakota legislature is largely Republican and when it meets next spring will elect Purcell's successor.

Of the thirty Senators whose terms expire next March, twenty-four are republicans and six are Democrats. The Democrats gain one in Maine and are making vigorous contests in eleven other states. Republican managers profess to see no danger except in Indiana, Nebraska and Missouri. Beveridge is having a hard fight in the "Hoosier" state but Democrats disaffection over the selection of John W. Kern may aid Beveridge very materially. Burkett is in danger in Nebraska and Warner's seat is more than likely to be occupied by a Democrat.

But the Democrats are making progressive campaigns in Montana for Carter's seat, in New York for Depew's, in Ohio for Dick's in Delaware for Du Pont's in Massachusetts for Lodge's and in Nevada for Nixon's.

The Senate stands fifty nine Republicans and thirty-three Democrats, a majority of twenty six for the dominant party. Therefore the Democrats must gain fourteen Senators before they can control the upper branch of Congress, which seems wholly impossible at this year's election.

The next most interesting phase of the situation will be the strength of the insurgents and tariff reforms in both houses. The importance of this question will be seen when Congress undertakes, upon the President's recommendation, to resume revision of the tariff by a gradual process of taking up schedules seriatim.

President Taft dealt a body blow to the "piece meal" policy of river and harbor appropriations at the Convention of the Ohio River improvement association recently held in Cincinnati and emphasized his position on waterway improvements as outlined in his memorandum to Congress in giving his reason for signing the last river and harbor bill.

President Taft's emphatic protest against sporadic appropriations in the river and harbor bills of the future emphasizes in no uncertain manner the position of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress on this subject and when this great body of water-way enthusiasts meets in the Nation's Capital on December 7, 8 and 9 it is confidently expected that the President's demand for a comprehensive policy of water-way betterments will be enthusiastically endorsed.

REGULATORS BURN HOUSE

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 29.—Night Riders last night invaded Robards, station ten miles south of here on the L. & N. railroad in Henderson county, and after frightening the colored inhabitants at a house on the outskirts of the village, burned the place and made their escape.

It is claimed the Night Riders accused the occupants with operating a disreputable house. No arrests have been made.

Fifty shots were fired into the house. It was not stated whether any of the negro women were injured, but all left the town in post-haste.

For several weeks, it was stated, that several negro women were conducting a disorderly house. They were warned to leave the town last week, but failed to heed the warning.

Shortly after 8 o'clock last night unknown persons approached the house and began firing shots into it.

At the first report the inmates fled through the back door and were soon lost in the darkness. The report was to the effect that after the women had fled the parties posted a notice on the door warning the former inmates that if they returned they would not escape so easily.

"I Am Glad"

writes Mrs. Ethel Newlin, of Liberty Center, Ind., "that I began to take Cardui, for it has cured me, and I will never forget it. "I cannot praise Cardui too highly for what it did for me. Before I began to take it, I was very bad color, suffered great pain and weighed only 105 pounds. Now I have a good color, do not suffer and weigh 125 lbs."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Beware of strong, noxious, mineral drugs, that sink into your system, like lead to the bottom of a basin of water.

Cardui is purely vegetable and contains no poisonous minerals, or dangerous drugs.

It is perfectly safe and harmless, for use by old and young, and may be taken, as a tonic, for months, without any possible harmful effect. Try it.

GRAVES COUNTY OFFICERS

Roasted by the Fulton Daily Tribune and Fling Made at the Mayfield Papers.

If the officers of Graves county had as much backbone as an eel they would put down at least one of the worst, the most damnable hell holds on the face of the earth, a place where any one who has the price and wants to can buy all the booze they want. Hundreds of young men have been ruined by such sale and dozens of men have been killed as a result of this illegal sale of whiskey. And yet there is not a paper in Graves county who dare raise their voice against them. The officers are either afraid to or don't want to try to stop it. We are not proposing to say what Graves county should or should not do, but we know that Fulton boys are being affected by this business; hundreds of gallons are brought from there and drank here and the blame is placed on Fulton.

For years this hole of demons has existed until no one seems to care. Every one knows it yet they make themselves believe it can't be stopped. What a scandal! When the citizens wake up it will be stopped. It ought to be stopped and the violators placed in safe keeping—Fulton Tribune.

CANNOT DIP SHEEP UNLESS SICK

So Says Attorney General Breathitt In Opinion of Restricting Sanitary Powers.

Frankfort, Ky. Sept. 28.—According to a ruling by Judge James Breathitt, Attorney General, at the request of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board, which held a meeting in the office of M. C. Rankin, Commissioner of Agriculture, this afternoon, inspectors can only require the dipping of exposed or affected sheep. No effort will be made to have all sheep dipped.

At the meeting of the board Dr. J. Payne, of Washington, connected with the Department of Agriculture, and Dr. E. L. Bertram, of Cincinnati, discussed with the board the question of how best to protect the live stock of Kentucky against all forms of disease. The main business was to straighten out some tangles relating to the powers of the county inspectors. These inspectors were appointed mainly to see that the scabbies is stamped out in this State so that the quarantine against Kentucky can be lifted. It is working a hardship on the sheep raisers of State, and the only way to lift the quarantine is to stamp out the scabbies.

Mr. Rankin and Dr. Hayne were appointed a committee to prepare a set of rules for the government of live stock inspectors in this county.

Dr. Payne reported that he had made an inspection of the cattle in Woodford county which were thought to be infected with Texas fever and found that it was not the fever.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 3.—Fifteen to twenty persons perished in a fire which destroyed the Times newspaper building at 1 o'clock in the morning. A terrific explosion, which the managing editor, in a signed statement declared was dynamite used by enemies of the paper, preceded the bursting flames which swept through the building like a flash.

Western Union Telegraph Operator Furman, who left a few minutes before the explosion occurred, declared that noxious gas fumes had caused great annoyance throughout the night. Those killed were employed of the paper.

Estimates of the number of dead grew later in the day, and possibly fifty persons lost their lives. A large force of "stuffers" for the Sunday edition, usually were on duty on Friday nights but definite information is difficult to obtain. The list of missing furnished by the manager of the Times, includes twelve linotypes, one stenographer, one telegraph editor and linotype machinist.

The injured taken to the hospital include Harvey P. Ellis, assistant city editor, who jumped from a third story window, sustaining a broken leg, and Charles Lovelace, coast editor, who also jumped from the third story.

The loss to the plant is estimated at half million dollars. The bursting of the huge crude oil tanks scattered oil through the crevices of the ruins. Until this oil burns itself out little can be done in ascertaining how many victims are buried beneath the debris.

OBITUARY

Little Elsie Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Williams was born April 29, 1908, died Oct. 1, 1910.

Little Elsie was a beautiful child with her smiling face and golden hair. She was given like a beautiful rose to gladden the home of mother and father to cheer all who came in touch with her.

Dear parents your home is lonely we know without little Elsie but God giveth only to take away. She has gone to a far better home than we have. She is waiting on the heavenly shore with beckoning hands. We know it is hard to part with such a beautiful bud after it has opened its beauty and sweetness before us. But God who gave the sweet little child has a far more beautiful home for her than we have. She is still your child and happily awaits your coming. May God guide and comfort the bereaved ones. A precious one from us is gone. A voice we loved is still. A place is vacant in our home which never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled. The boon his love hath given. And the body moulders here. The soul is safe in heaven.

ROOSEVELT MEETS AN AMERICAN KING

He Is Initiated and Knighted by Ak-Sar-Ben of Omaha.

UNIQUE CEREMONY IN A DEN

Organization of Middle West "Boost-ers" Give the Colonel a Lively Evening—Automobile Ride With Wax Women.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 3.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who spent yesterday and last night as the guest of Omaha, met an American king in the evening, and his majesty gave the distinguished visitor a livelier entertainment than any he received in the courts of Europe. The mysterious ruler knighted the colonel, initiated him into a secret order and permitted him to sit on his throne. All this took place in the den of Ak-Sar-Ben, and Mr. Roosevelt will never forget the ordeals through which he passed there, and will not soon cease to laugh at the memory of them.

Ak-Sar-Ben is the mardigras of the north. It is the "boosters" organization of the middle west—the name being formed by spelling Nebraska backwards. By delving into the language books it has been discovered that it means a lot more. "Ak" is said to be good Syrian for "head of a household," "sar" in the Arabic is "household" and "ben" in the Hebrew is "family" or "brothers in a household." Thus Ak-Sar-Ben consists of a king, the board of governors and the "brothers of the household," or all the business men in the middle west, who have banded themselves together in a great co-operative movement to develop the trans-Missouri country.

The festival has two seasons, one for initiation and the other a carnival, the latter to be held later in the fall. The colonel got the full initiation last night and was told of the work of Ak-Sar-Ben. Sixteen years ago it was founded by business men of the west. It has something besides romance for a soul. The foundation of the festival is business fraternalism and it has brought the people of the middle west together. Ak-Sar-Ben has been continuing growing more popular each year until this season the membership had to be limited. Some 6,000 are initiated annually and 150,000 attend the festival and watch the parades. Last year President Taft was initiated.

Dragged Down Into the Den.

The "den" is a huge building, covering an entire block. Under it are numerous tunnels and mysterious chambers. Running through this tunnel is a rope constantly in motion, drawing the candidates in.

On entering, Colonel Roosevelt was requested by a court officer to hang on to the rope. Once a hold of it, there was no turning back. Hundreds in front were pulling, scores and scores behind pushing. Amid a babblement of strange noises the colonel felt an emotion akin to those he knew in the heat and dust of the great plains when in the midst of stampeding cattle.

Down, down, down, went the line under the great den, the candidates emerging in a chamber like the anteroom of a Roman theater. Here the imperial keeper of the outer gate separated the wheat from the tares—"many there are who are called, but few are chosen." The ex-president was one of those who were chosen last night. And it meant something.

Placed on the "top" of a miniature world, where his friend Peary has been, Colonel Roosevelt felt the earth begin to revolve on its axis. As it approached the equatorial suns the force of gravitation was removed and the colonel shot off into space towards the Milky Way, picking himself up a dozen yards off ready for the next ride.

SQUARE DEAL IN TARIFF IS WANTED

Roosevelt Discusses Very Live Topic in Sioux Falls.

SHOULD BE MATERIAL ISSUE

Former President Says Present Law Is Not Satisfactory and Argues for an Efficient Tariff Commission.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 3.—Colonel Roosevelt arrived here at 4:30 this afternoon on his tour of the middle west, and his schedule provided for an all night stop. He made one address, taking for his topic the tariff and arguing earnestly for the creation of a tariff commission. He said:

Whenever men just like ourselves—probably not much better, and certainly no worse—continually fail to give us the results we have a right to expect from their efforts, we may just as well make up our minds that the fault lies, not in their personality, but in the conditions under which they work, and profit comes, not from denouncing them, but in seeing that the conditions are changed. This is especially true of tariff-making. It has been conclusively shown, by experiments repeated again and again, that the methods of tariff-making by congress, which have now obtained for so many years, cannot, from the very nature of the case bring really satisfactory results. I think that the present tariff is better than the last, and considerably better than the one before the last; but it has certainly failed to give general satisfaction. I believe this country is fully committed to the principle of protection; but it is to protection as a principle; to protection primarily in the interest of the standard of living of the American workingman. I believe that when protection becomes, not a principle, but a privilege and a preference—or, rather, a jumble of privileges and preferences—then the American people disapprove of it. Now, to correct the trouble, it is necessary, in the first place, to get in mind clearly what we want, and, in the next place, to get in mind clearly the method by which we hope to obtain what we want. What we want is a square deal in the tariff as in everything else; a square deal for the wage-earner; a square deal for the employer; and a square deal for the general public. To obtain it we must have a thoroughly efficient and well-equipped tariff commission.

The tariff ought to be a material issue and not a moral issue; if instead of a square deal we get a crooked deal, then it becomes very emphatically a moral issue. What we desire in a tariff is such measure of protection as will equalize the cost of production here and abroad; and as the cost of production is mainly labor cost, this means primarily a tariff sufficient to make up for the difference in labor cost here and abroad. The American public wants the American laboring man put on an equality with other citizens, so that he shall have the ability to achieve the American standard of living and the capacity to enjoy it; and to do this we must see that his wages are not lowered by improper competition with inferior wage-workers abroad—with wage-workers who are paid poorly and who live as no Americans are willing to live. But the American public does not wish to see the tariff so arranged as to benefit primarily a few wealthy men.

Commission Is the Solution.

As a means toward the attainment of its end in view we have as yet devised nothing in any way as effective as a tariff commission. There should be a commission of well-paid experts; men who should not represent any industry; who should be masters of their subjects; of the very highest character; and who should approach the matter with absolute disregard of every outside consideration. These men should take up in succession each subject with which the tariff deals and investigate the conditions of production here and abroad; they should find out the facts and not merely accept the statements of interested parties; and they should report to congress on each subject as soon as that subject has been covered. Then action can be taken at once on the particular subject concerned, while the commission immediately proceeds to investigate another. By these means log-rolling would be avoided and each side would be forced to its merits, while there would be no such shock to general industry as is implied in the present custom of making sweeping changes in the whole tariff at once. Finally, it should be the duty of some government department or bureau to investigate the conditions in the various protected industries, and see that the laborers really are getting the benefit of the tariff supposed to be enacted in their interest. Moreover, to insure good treatment abroad we should keep the maximum and minimum provision.

For Waterway Legislation, Also.

The same principle of a first-class outside commission should be applied to river and harbor legislation. At present a river and harbor bill, like a tariff bill, tends to be settled by a squabble among a lot of big selfish interests and little selfish interests, with scant regard to the one really vital interest that of the general public. In this matter the National legislature would do well to profit by the example of Massachusetts. Formerly Massachusetts dealt with its land and harbor legislation just as at Washington tariff and river and harbor laws have been dealt with; and there was just the same pulling and hauling, the same bargaining and log-rolling, the same subordination of the general interest to various special interests. Last year Governor Draper took up the matter, and on his recommendation the legislature turned the whole business over to a commission of experts; and all trouble and scandal forthwith disappeared. Incidentally, this seems to me to be a first-class instance of progressive legislation.

Foreign Students in France.

From returns recently made to the French ministry of public instruction, it appears that there are over five thousand foreign students enrolled in the albums of the national universities. All told there are 41,044 students enrolled, so of one hundred students eighty-seven are French and thirteen foreigners. Of the foreigners, 1,797 are women and 3,444 men. There are only 2,033 French women students; Russia sends 2,864 students; Bulgaria, 254; Roumania, 330; Turkey, 282; Germany, 314; Egypt, 267; England, 177; Austria-Hungary, 132; United States, 232. Nearly all the English contingent is studying letters. Most of the foreign students go to Paris—London Globe.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM D. W. STONE

At Columbia, Ky., Land Worth Good Money and Mules and Whiskey Chief Product

Columbia, Ky., Sept. 29, 1910.
Mr. N. E. Calmes.

Editor Record-Press,

Dear Sir:—Will tell you somethings about Central, Ky. I began work this trip at Lebanon, Ky., the County Seat of Marion county. Marion county was carved out of Washington county 1834 and is near the center of the state. The surface of the county is gently undulating with the exceptions of a chain of "knobs" a part of the Mul-draugh Hill system from E. to W., this surface is quite rugged some knobs several hundred feet high. Here is the "famous" Rolling Fork river, emptying into Salt river and down the great Ohio river. Four district geological formations are present in Marion county. The lower Silurian, upper Silurian, Sub-carboniferous and Devonian.

The soil is of course varied in character, the county separating the "Blue Grass" from the "Pennyridge" N. E. portion is blue grass the W. and N. W. section are "pennyridge" land sell from $50 to $160 per A.
Most farms have locust groves as the timber is gone.

This is a mule county. The finest sugar mules received in New Orleans, and the toppest and best fatted cotton mules go from Marion county barns.

Distilleries are the chief manufacturing establishments. Best equipped, and their brands are world famed such as "Rolling Fork", "Dew of Lebanon" etc.

The L. & N. R. R. runs from E. to W. and South. Over 100 miles of turn pike fine from toll gates in the county, never no mob spirit with toll gates in Marion county.

One high school and two Catholic colleges in the county, St. Marks for men and Loretta for ladies. The county has no bonded or floating debt.

I met Rev. Sidney Moore at Lebanon. Here is the home of J. Proctor Knott, I had the pleasure of visiting him, he is 90 years old and very feeble; was Gov. of Ky., 1883 to 1887.

I next came to Taylor county.
This county was cut off of Green county 1848. Campbellsville is the County Seat. The county is rolling and hilly.
Green river runs through the county has the L. & N. R. R.

Campbellsville is a good town and growing fast. It has 5 churches—Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Christian and Catholic. Five schools—the Baptist and Presbyterian each have a fine school here.

I met Bro. McConnell at Mans-ville, his wife was bad sick, others all well.

Best wishes,
D. W. STONE.

HER PHYSICIAN APPROVES

Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabbatus, Maine.—"You told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before child-birth, and we are all surprised to see how much good it did. My physician said 'Without doubt it was the Compound that helped you.' I thank you for your kindness in advising me and give you full permission to use my name in your testimonials."—Mrs.
H. W. MITCHELL, Box 3, Sabbatus, Me.

Another Woman Helped.
Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth mounting of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter."—Mrs.
CHARLES BARCLAY, R.F.D., Granite-ville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing illa-peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years pound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A BOY'S ESSAY ON THE EDITOR

"I don't know how newspapers came to be in the world, and I don't think God knows, for He ain't got nothing to say about them in the bible. I think the editor is the missing link we read of and stayed in the bushes until the flood, and then came out and wrote the things up and has been here ever since. I don't think he ever died. I never saw a dead one and never heard of one getting licked. Our paper is a mighty good one: but the editor goes without under-clothes all winter, and don't wear any socks and pa ain't paid his subscription since the paper started. I asked pa if that was the reason why the editor had to suck the juice out of snow balls in winter, and go to bed when he had his shirt washed in summer.

"Then pa got mad and took me out in the woodshed and licked me awful hard. If the editor makes mistakes folks say he ought to be hanged; but if the doctor makes any mistakes people dassent say nothing because doctors can read and write Latin. When the editor makes mistakes there is lawsuits, and swearing and a big fuss, but if the doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a yard long without him or anybody else knowin' what it means, but if the editor uses one he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another mans' wife he charges the man for the visit; but if the editor should go, he gets a charge of buckshot. Any college can make a doctor to order, but an editor has to be born."

In nervous prostration and female weaknesses they are the supreme remedy, as thousands have testified.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent. of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Rexall Orderlies are a positive pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effect. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Two sizes, 25c. and 50c. Sold only at our store—

MINING BROKERS' OFFICES RAIDED

Fraudulent Use of Mails Alleged Against B. F. Scheffels & Co., in New York City

Washington, Sept. 29—Agents of the Department of Justice at noon to-day raided the offices of B. F. Scheffels & Co., in New York City, mining stock brokers, and the branches of the same firm in Boston, Providence, Philadelphia, Chicago, Milwaukee and Detroit.

The complaint against the firm is conspiracy to use the mails to defraud. B. H. Scheff-tel, head of the firm, was one of those arrested in New York.

The complaint is against the following named persons who are believed to be prominent in the management and operations of Scheffels & Co.: George Graham Rice, B. H. Scheffels, George Sullivan, Charles B.
Stone, Charles F. Belser, John Delaney, Clarence McCormick, Charles S. Herzig, William T.
Seagraves and Harry Hedrick.

The manager of the Branch offices are charged with being parties of the alleged conspiracy.

It is said that the department of Justice that the evidence in possession of the Bureau of Investigation tends to show that B. H. Scheffels & Co., has been engaged in promoting the sale of mining of questionable value, the price of which is alleged to have been increased as a result of exaggerated and fictitious statements made by persons interested in the company. It is also charged that the firm has been operating bucket shops and reporting to customers alleged purchases and sales at other than the correct market price.

The raid was planned from Washington to take place simultaneously at all offices of the company at noon.

it might be inspected, we ordered this one through the Yates

WEEKLY TOBACCO TIDINGS

Editor Banks Makes a Good Man in the Right Place—His Letters Benefit to Farmers.

On yesterday, the last day of September, the Ringling Circus day, Mr. John Williams, of the Green Briar neighborhood, brought to this office two hands of the 1910 crop of tobacco.

"That," said Mr. Williams, "is the improved hang-down type of tobacco. It was fired four days and nights, and if there should come a spell of wet foggy weather, it will be fired some more."

The sample (he left two hands here at the office) is beautiful mahogany brown, the leaves long and wide and the fiber fine and delicate—for it is the improved hang-down, remember—and the leaves are oily and stretchy. It is the very best type of fired stemming tobacco for any year, and fit for to market right now.

Mr. William and Isom Sellars are farming together and the two of them supplement each other and know all the ins and outs of tobacco growing.

By the way, there will be a meeting of the tobacco growers next Tuesday night at Green Briar. However, that will look better under a separate headline.

MEETING AT GREEN BRIAR

Committeeman Isom Sellars hereby notifies the members of the Association in that neighborhood that there will be held a meeting of members next Tuesday night, October 4, at Green Briar. A full attendance is much to be desired, as several matters of prime importance to co-operating farmers are to be considered and discussed.

Robards and Green Briar farmers are up-to-date and wide-awake. They study the subject of co-operation, they confer together and discuss the situation and involve many a helpful suggestion for the consideration of the officers of the Association.

By the way, those tobacco growers out there, as well as others who have good crops, should exhibit for these premiums October 11, at the County Fair.

TRUST KILLS A TOWN

Bainbridge, Ga.—A few years ago this was one of the most prosperous sections in the United States. Many people made small fortunes raising tobacco.
One New York firm paid the farmers from sixty to ninety cents a pound for tobacco and millions besides. Then it was reported that this firm merged with the trust, and with no competing buyers prices of tobacco went down. The farmers ceased to make good living.
Several towns that once were busy marts are now filled with vacant houses, and there are many idle plantations. The poor and middle class people of the South are ready to hear the story and explanation of their wrongs.

BURNING THE CROP

(From the Post, Bainbridge, Ga.
Sept. 24, 1919.)

Tuesday morning at day break ten thousand pounds of the best tobacco in this country were burning on the commons at At-tapulgus, the center of the tobacco-growing section of Decatur county. As a result of this action of the county if wondering what it means or foreruns.
The burning was orderly and with no undue excitement and supposedly with a purpose of which nothing could be learned.

The boxes were hauled evidently to the square during the night and at daylight when the merchants came down to open their stores they were astonished to find that a tobacco bonfire was being pulled off under their noses.

There was no disorder at all.
A large banner was nailed upon a mast just over the fire with the following inscription:

RESULT OF OVERPRODUCTION; WE CANNOT SELL IT. WE CAN BURN IT.

It means that the good farmers of the county have been driven to desperation by what they consider the machinations of the syndicate influences and trust combination and unless some relief of some nature is given these people something is liable to happen that will cause more astonishment than this peaceful warning.

WEIGHING HOGS AND FEED

One farmer reports that he drives his fattening hogs over the scales once a week and also weighs the feed he has given them during this time. In this way he knows just what they are doing for him and whether they are making or losing money. If the former he knows whether they are doing their best, and if the latter he hunts for the cause. This doesn't take much time and does pay—Kansas Farmer.

THE FARM TEAM

From our experience and observation, if we were selecting the farm team, we have decided that the medium sized horse, rather blocky in build, is best adapted to the general farm work. While others might be willing to differ with us, we feel that a few reasons why we would make this choice would not be out of place here.

We would choose the medium size and the blocky builds because these animals are generally more active than those that are heavier in weight. They often walk faster, and when turning at the end furrow or corn row they do so with less danger to themselves, with greater ease and in less time than does the horse that is extra large. Then when used on soft ground they will often endure more, as they do not sink into the moist soil as much as the heavier animal.—American Cultivator.

INDOLENCE AND HOME.

Indolence is an enemy to home. Some men are too lazy to provide decent conveniences at home. It is a crime against the happiness of the home for a man to neglect to provide the little conveniences that will add to the beauty and comfort of the home. Say, brother, take out that old mildewed pillow and put in a pane of glass, it is too painful as it is. Climb up then and put the bricks on the chimney where the storm of last winter blew them off. Put a carpet on the floor and a few pictures on the wall. Put some good books on the shelves, and give your family a paper or two to read. Study to make yourself useful, and rob home of its bleakness. Make the children feel that home is a Paradise in which the thrushes of love ever sing high up in the clear blue sky of the humble heart and you will have no fear turning out thieves and harlots in years to come.—Ex.

Free Remedy For Weak Bowels

There are two forms of bodily cleanliness, the external and the internal. The one is for your pride in yourself; the other for your life and health. Both are important, but of vastly more importance in the long run is the internal cleanliness.

This is one point that all should watch about their bodies—the cleanliness of the bowels. Keep them clean and free from obstructions. To do this you must have one or two movements of the bowels each twenty-four hours. If your system does not do this naturally, in the process of eating and drinking, then you must obtain aid of some kind. After finding out that cathartics, salts and such things relieve you for a day, but blind you up worse than ever the next day, then try a simpler and more natural remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

For the skeptical the best way to begin is to send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle.
Use it as directed and if it convinces you that a brief continuance of its use will relieve you permanently—that it will train the stomach and bowel muscles to again work naturally at certain hours—then buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing. They began with a sample bottle, then bought a fifty cent bottle, and now, fully convinced of its merits, they buy the one dollar family size. All the members of the family can use it down to the very youngest.

A brief use of this grand laxative tonic will cure constipation in its worst form, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and such ailments and keep you in continuous good health at a very small cost. Such is the experience of many families like that of Mrs. Oscar Fleener, Unionville, Ind., J. F. Daniel, Saras, Tex., and hundreds of others that could be named.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail.
For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

ELK FLOUR

SOLD ON PROOF---NOT CLAIMS

If you do not find Elk Flour all that we say it is, you will have your money back—you will have lost nothing.

If you do find Elk Flour to be more economical—much superior in quality to any other flour—then you can't know it any too soon.

We might argue in advertising—just as other advertisers do—that our product is "best."

But Elk Flour really has the superior quality—which enables us to permit Elk Flour itself to convince you of its own superior quality, right in your home.

We make Elk Flour from the best grade of Crittenden county wheat and connected with the fact that we have the latest improved machinery for cleaning and our mills absolutely perfect from top to bottom it is no wonder that Elk Flour is so popular in every home.

We buy wheat only for our own consumption, hence buy the best. Mills that speculate in wheat frequently get mixed wheat in their best brands. This is averted with us.

Buy the best, THE ELK.
